

Pope Francis wants to help children pray for others. To do this he asks YOU to use your fingers and thumb!

Start now by reading the words below.

This is my tallest finger. This finger reminds me to pray for those who make big decisions, like world leaders and Pope Francis.
Write names that come to mind on the lines below.

This is my weakest finger. This finger reminds me to pray for children who are sick, sad, or lonely.
Write names that come to mind on the lines below.

This is my pointing finger. This finger reminds me to pray for people who teach me and want the best for me.
Write names that come to mind on the lines below.

Now that I have prayed for everyone else, my little finger reminds me to pray for ME!

My Thumb is the nearest to my heart, so I use my thumb to remind me to pray for those closest to me.
Write names that come to mind on the lines below.

Start here!

Those closest to my heart:

Those who teach me:

Those who lead:

Those who are sick, sad or lonely:
